ABOUT SCALDIS

The Scaldis filling machine is the result of a customer inspired re-engineering of the existing SNEYDERS linear filling machines.

User comments, newly available technologies and fresh insights were the basis for adapting a proven technology and experience.

Scaldis is not only a technical improvement with more precise, smoother and less noisy movements. It has also an esthetic design which complies with most actual hygienic requirements for both internal and external parts.

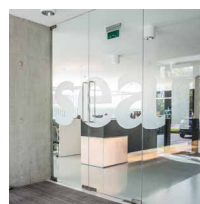

Operator panels have been simplified with easy to understand graphics. Average speeds, machine efficiency, bottling time till end of production batch are a few of the possible displays to ease production.

All improvements to the machine have been implemented to make your operations more efficient.
